The workshop titled "Kickstart Your Future: Building a Tech Career with Python, AI & ML Tools" introduced to Python programming, Artificial Intelligence, and Machine Learning concepts. It featured practical demonstrations, hands-on exercises, and interactive sessions on AI tools, automation, and modern software development. Participants gained valuable insights into current industry trends and career opportunities in AI, Machine Learning, Full Stack Development, and Data Science. The workshop also enhanced students' logical thinking, problem-solving abilities, and technical skills through real-time examples and mini-project activities. Overall, the program successfully bridged the gap between academic learning and industry expectations while inspiring students to pursue careers in emerging technologies.
